Lake Shore Temperature Sensor RoHS – Current Status

Lake Shore Cryotronics' Temperature Sensors are currently covered under Exemption 26 of the RoHS Directive Annex IV. The current exemption expired on June 30, 2021, however, Lake Shore applied for a renewal which is being reviewed by the Commission. You can see the status of the Exemptions here (See Excel download, currently line 323).

Until a decision is made by the Commission, the existing Exemption is valid (see RoHS Directive Exemptions Procedure). The latest report from the European Commission recommending a renewal through June 30, 2028, can be found here (Study to assess requests for renewal of 16 exemptions to Annex IV of Directive 2011/65/EU - Publications Office of the EU \(europa.eu\)). Our exemption is covered in section 15 starting on page 341.

We have updated our Temperature Sensor RoHS Compliance Declaration to reflect this information.

Please contact compliance@lakeshore.com with any questions.
